

Consent to Publish Online

In order to upload iMovies onto the Internet via YouTube, Aurora Public Schools needs your permission to publish the iMovie students created using your names or images or words from your interview. This permission will also allow me to cite these iMovies within future articles I may write about this experience.

I, _____, consent to have student writing about me and my real name used in the iMovie students have created about poverty and hunger in Hamilton County that will be uploaded onto YouTube by Aurora Public Schools. I also give permission for Dr. Cathie English to use these images or words in any future articles or educational work that she may write concerning student work in the English classroom. I understand that I will receive no compensation. I hereby assign publishing rights for the contribution to any future publication, i.e. educational journal, or any publisher, including all copyrights.
